

BUILD LOCAL ALLIANCE DIRECTORY

Since 2005 the Build Local Alliance has fostered hundreds of important connections. Through these connections, growers, processors, designers, makers, and consumers work together to create markets that boost forest health and vitality - while giving trees second lives in exciting projects.

While the BLA's work inspires, educates and facilitates good discussion and reflection, what we do best is to help make useful connections. This directory is designed to further facilitate this important match-making. This directory is organized in six sections based on types of services: Forest Owners and Managers, Processors, Distributors and Retailers, Architects, Makers, and Supporting Organizations.

The directory shares information about businesses in Northwest Oregon and Southwest Washington that are committed to growing and using wood from our remarkable native, non-plantation forests. The BLA encourages and supports people in educating themselves and reaching their own conclusions about what constitutes responsible forestry and good wood. More information may be found at www.buildlocalalliance.org.

This document is a draft of the full directory we will complete in August, 2018. We invite you to actively use this resource and help us to keep improving it. Please send directory updates and proposals for new listings to info@buildlocalalliance.org.

Yours for the woods! - The Build Local Alliance Team
